HOME WORKOUT ROUTINES

30-Day Plans for All Fitness Levels

Empire Rewards — Free Edition

INTRODUCTION

Most home workout programs fail for one reason: they don't follow a progressive plan. You do the same exercises at the same intensity for weeks, your body adapts, and progress stops.

This program solves that. It provides three complete 30-day plans — beginner, intermediate, and advanced — each with progressive overload built into every week. Every workout is bodyweight-only. No gym, no equipment, no experience required.

PART 1: THE THREE LEVELS

BEGINNER LEVEL

- 15–25 minutes per day, 5 workout days per week
- Focus: learning form, building base strength, creating the exercise habit
- Best for: complete beginners, people returning after a long break

INTERMEDIATE LEVEL

- 25–35 minutes per day, 5 workout days per week
- Focus: compound movements, supersets, circuits
- Best for: 3–6 months of consistent training experience

ADVANCED LEVEL

- 35–45 minutes per day, 6 workout days per week
- Focus: high-intensity circuits, plyometrics, complex movement patterns
- Best for: experienced lifters and athletes

PART 2: THE FIVE WORKOUT TYPES

Each week rotates between five workout types:

1. Full-Body Strength — push-ups, squats, lunges, planks and progressions

2. HIIT Cardio — 30s work / 15s rest interval circuits

3. Upper/Lower Split — focused upper or lower body sessions

4. Flexibility & Mobility — dynamic stretching, yoga-inspired flows

5. Active Recovery — light walking, gentle stretching, foam rolling

PART 3: THE 30-DAY BEGINNER CALENDAR

WEEK 1 — Foundation (15–20 min/day)

Day 1: Full Body A — 3×10 squats, 3×5 knee push-ups, 3×10 lunges/leg, 2×20s plank

Day 2: Walk 20 minutes

Day 3: Core + Mobility — 3×10 bird dogs, 3×10 dead bugs, 5-min stretch

Day 4: Full Body B — 3×12 squats, 3×6 knee push-ups, 3×12 lunges/leg, 3×20s plank

Day 5: Rest / Stretch

Day 6: Walk 25 minutes

Day 7: Full Rest

WEEK 2 — Build (20–25 min/day)

Day 8: Full Body A+ — 3×12 squats, 3×8 knee push-ups, 3×12 lunges/leg, 3×25s plank

Day 9: Walk 30 minutes

Day 10: Core + Mobility — 3×12 glute bridges, 3×12 bird dogs/side, 3×12 dead bugs/side, 3×20s side plank/side

Day 11: Full Body B+ — 3×15 squats, 3×10 knee push-ups, 3×15 lunges/leg, 3×30s plank

Day 12: Rest / Stretch

Day 13: Walk 30 minutes

Day 14: Full Rest

WEEK 3 — Push (25–30 min/day)

Day 15: Circuit A — 3 rounds: 12 squats, 8 knee push-ups, 10 lunges/leg, 30s plank (60s rest between rounds)

Day 16: Walk 30 minutes

Day 17: Full Body C — 3×15 squats, 3×10 knee push-ups, 3×15 lunges/leg, 3×30s plank, 3×15 glute bridges

Day 18: Core Focus — 3 rounds: 12 dead bugs/side, 12 bird dogs/side, 20s side plank/side, 10 calf raises

Day 19: Rest / Stretch

Day 20: Circuit B — 3 rounds: 15 squats, 10 knee push-ups, 12 lunges/leg, 40s plank (60s rest between rounds)

Day 21: Full Rest

WEEK 4 — Peak (30–35 min/day)

Day 22: Full Body A++ — 4×15 squats, 4×10 knee push-ups (or full), 4×15 lunges/leg, 4×40s plank

Day 23: Walk 35 minutes

Day 24: Circuit C — 4 rounds: 15 squats, 10 push-ups, 12 lunges/leg, 45s plank, 15 glute bridges (60s rest)

Day 25: Full Body B++ — 4×15 squats, 4×12 knee push-ups, 4×15 lunges/leg, 4×45s plank, 4×15 glute bridges

Day 26: Rest / Stretch

Day 27: Final Challenge — 5 rounds: 15 squats, 10 push-ups, 12 lunges/leg, 45s plank (60s rest)

Days 28–30: Celebrate + Rest

PART 4: THE INTERMEDIATE PROGRESSION

The intermediate plan follows the same 4-week structure with these upgrades:

Week 1 — 20–25 min/day

- Push-ups: full instead of knee
- Squats: 15–20 reps per set
- Plank: 45 seconds
- Added: mountain climbers, side planks, bicycle crunches

Week 2 — 25–30 min/day

- Supersets introduced: pair push-ups with rows, squats with lunges
- Rest periods reduced from 60s to 45s
- Added: burpees, jump squats, plank shoulder taps

Week 3 — 30–35 min/day

- Circuit training: 4 rounds of 5 exercises
- Rest periods 30–45s between rounds
- Added: pike push-ups, single-leg glute bridges, hollow holds

Week 4 — 30–35 min/day

- Peak intensity: 5-round circuits
- Added: plyo push-ups, jumping lunges, plank with leg lift
- Final challenge: 6 rounds of the week's hardest circuit

PART 5: THE ADVANCED PROGRESSION

The advanced plan adds a 6th workout day and higher-intensity work:

Week 1 — 30–35 min/day

- Push-up variations: archer, decline, diamond
- Squat variations: pistol progressions, jump squats
- Plank variations: plank with arm reach, plank to push-up
- Added: L-sit holds, hollow body rocks, handstand wall holds

Week 2 — 35–40 min/day

- 5-round circuits with 30s rest
- Added: one-arm push-up progressions, shrimp squats, pistol squats
- Interval cardio: 40s on / 20s off

Week 3 — 40–45 min/day

- 6-round circuits with 20s rest
- Added: explosive movements — clapping push-ups, broad jumps, tuck jumps
- Cardio: 45s on / 15s off

Week 4 — 40–45 min/day

- Peak: 7-round circuits
- Rest only 15s between rounds
- Final challenge: 10 rounds

PART 6: THE 8 CORE EXERCISES (WITH FORM CUES)

1. BODYWEIGHT SQUAT

How: Stand feet shoulder-width. Lower hips as if sitting. Chest up, knees tracking over toes. Push through heels.

Cue: Go as low as possible without rounding your lower back.

Beginner mod: Hold a doorframe for balance. Half-depth only.

2. PUSH-UP (KNEE OR FULL)

How: Hands under shoulders. Body straight from head to heels (or knees). Lower chest to 90° elbows. Push up.

Cue: Keep your body rigid. Don't let hips sag or rise.

Beginner mod: Wall push-ups or knee push-ups.

3. WALKING LUNGE

How: Step forward, lower back knee nearly to ground. Push through front heel to stand, then step with other leg.

Cue: Keep torso upright. Reverse lunges if balance is an issue.

Beginner mod: Hold a wall with one hand.

4. PLANK HOLD

How: Forearms on floor, elbows under shoulders. Body straight from head to heels. Hold.

Cue: Squeeze glutes and abs. Drop to knees if hips sag — keep body straight.

Beginner mod: Forearm plank from knees.

5. GLUTE BRIDGE

How: Lie on back, knees bent, feet flat. Push hips to ceiling until body straight from knees to shoulders.

Cue: Squeeze glutes at top. Don't arch lower back.

Beginner mod: Hold top position for only 1 second.

6. BIRD DOG

How: On hands and knees, extend right arm forward and left leg back. Hold 2 seconds. Return. Switch.

Cue: Keep hips level. Don't rotate torso.

Beginner mod: Extend only the arm first.

7. DEAD BUG

How: Lie on back, arms up, knees at 90°. Lower right arm and left leg toward floor. Return. Switch.

Cue: Keep lower back pressed into floor throughout.

Beginner mod: Move only the legs.

8. STANDING CALF RAISE

How: Feet hip-width. Rise onto balls of feet. Hold 1 second. Lower slowly.

Cue: Slow, controlled reps build more than fast bouncing.

Beginner mod: Do them seated.

PART 7: WARM-UP AND COOL-DOWN

5-MINUTE WARM-UP (before every workout)

- 1 minute: March in place
- 1 minute: Arm circles (forward then backward)
- 1 minute: Leg swings (front-to-back, both legs)
- 1 minute: Hip circles
- 1 minute: Bodyweight squats (slow, controlled)

5-MINUTE COOL-DOWN (after every workout)

- 1 minute: Standing quad stretch (30 sec each leg)
- 1 minute: Standing hamstring stretch (30 sec each leg)
- 1 minute: Chest and shoulder stretch
- 1 minute: Child's pose
- 1 minute: Deep breathing (in through nose, out through mouth)

PART 8: NUTRITION TIMING

Before workout (1–2 hours prior):

- Light meal with carbs + protein
- Examples: banana + peanut butter, oatmeal + protein, Greek yogurt + berries, toast + eggs

During workout:

- Water — sip throughout

After workout (within 1 hour):

- Protein + carbs
- Examples: chicken + rice, eggs + toast, protein shake + fruit, tuna + pasta

Rest days:

- Normal balanced meals. Focus on protein and vegetables.

PART 9: PROGRESS TRACKING

Log every workout:

- Date
- Exercise completed
- Reps or time
- Energy level (1–10)
- Notes (what felt hard, easy, or different)

What to look for:

- Weeks 1–2: You may feel sore. Normal.
- Weeks 2–3: Movements feel natural. Reps get easier.
- Weeks 3–4: Visible progress. Clothes may fit differently.
- End of 30 days: You've completed 20–24 workouts and built a genuine habit.

PART 10: REST DAY RECOVERY

Rest days are when muscle repairs and rebuilds. What to do:

- Light walking — 15–20 minutes
- Gentle stretching — 10 minutes
- Foam rolling — 5 minutes per major muscle group
- Hydration — drink more water than usual
- Sleep — aim for 7–9 hours

What NOT to do:

- Don't do "extra" workouts to make up for missed days
- Don't do intense cardio on rest days
- Don't skip rest days even if you feel great

PART 11: HOW TO REPEAT THE PLAN

After 30 days, four options:

1. Repeat with higher reps (add 5 reps per exercise)
2. Progress to harder variations (knee push-ups → full, squats → jump squats)
3. Move to the next level up in this program
4. Repeat at the same intensity — consistency beats intensity

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Can home workouts be as effective as the gym?

Yes. Bodyweight exercises produce comparable strength and muscle gains to machine-based training when performed with progressive overload.

What fitness levels are included?

Three: beginner, intermediate, and advanced. Each has its own 30-day calendar.

What types of workouts are included?

Five: full-body strength, HIIT cardio, upper/lower splits, mobility, and active recovery.

How much space do I need?

About 6x6 feet of floor space and a mat or towel.

Can I switch levels mid-program?

Yes. The progress tracking sheet helps you make the call objectively.

CONCLUSION

You now have:

- Three complete 30-day workout calendars
- Eight core exercises with form cues
- Warm-up and cool-down routines
- Nutrition timing guidelines
- A progress tracking system
- A rest day recovery guide

Pick your level. Follow the calendar. Track your numbers. In 30 days, you'll have built both fitness and the habit that keeps it.
